The Biggest Misconceptions About Manifesting Money

There are so very many misconceptions about manifesting money. For many people the entire process of manifesting is still quite new and many if not most people are still stuck in that grey area of believing the power of their thoughts but not knowing what to do with it.

Some people are under the assumption that thoughts alone create and no action is needed what so ever but that is not always true. What is disheartening is that much of the information on manifesting is written by people who are intellectually driven and not spiritually focus. So often times you get a lot of the practical part of manifesting without any of the magic that you are hoping that should come with manifesting.

With that said you still don't want to fall into that other extreme of believing that manifesting is all fairy dust and good wishes. This is not to say that it cannot be that but for now for most people it's not.

Manifesting can be magical and it is but even magic is based on the practical day to day reality. Knowing how to bring magical tools into the practical is what true manifesting is all about.

What is most magical about manifesting is the combination of mental skills with perfect action. It's a combination that goes hand in hand. One without the other won't do. Even if you are a monk who spends most of his days meditating on what he wants there is still something that you must physically do. What those things are will be different for each person but the entire joy of manifesting is in knowing that YOU will ALWAYS KNOW what is best to do and when to do what needs to be done.

Eradicate Fear

Right now you are probably feeling very worried about your future. You probably have dreams that you want to experience but can't seem to achieve them. The fear of reaching old age while remaining stuck in the same old humdrum experience can send many people into deep depression. In the worst case scenario many people will feel so hopeless that they will simply give up.

I have met countless people who are like this. They think its impossible now for anything to change. I can't see a way out. So they give up the fight. Guess what, we are all in this together. Every single one of us has to fight to understand the nature of money and our reality. Our entire system is build around money so our success revolves around having money and understanding it.

However the strong will always push on until they master it. Sadly most give up.

You have to ask yourself are you willing to die with unfulfilled dreams.

If you knew the right skills for manifesting what you want you would never be afraid. You would never worry about the economy. You would never even care to chase more money because life would be about chasing the experience. You would know in your heart that money will always come because you have the tools to source it out, again and again and again. This is the case even if you were living in Timbuktu.

No matter how much of a recession there is on the planet there is still money. Those who understand the principles of manifesting will always find it and money will come to them easily. And, you know what? They will have people willing to literally give them the money that they have. It isn't because they are forcing anyone to do so; in fact people will want to give them money. This can only happen when you understand how to align yourself with the giver and you know how to be the receiver.

The whole process is a fun game that should never leave you feeling worried or fearful. The more you play the game the better you get at it and the more money are able to manifest. Your manifesting powers increase with time.

Another big misconception many people have is that they will win a big fortune in one lump sum and so they wait around for this day to happen but in most cases it never does.

3 Reasons Why Most People Will Not Manifest The Money They Want

Although more and more people are becoming aware of the principles of thought, few are aware of how to use it to achieve their desires. The following are 3 of the most common reasons most people will not manifest the money they want.

Not Changing the Script– There are two kinds of action a person needs to take and that is mental action and physical action. It is not enough to simply believe that you will attract money. It's a terrible misfortune too many people are beginning to believe and when nothing happens they throw the entire idea of manifesting out the window.

The first most powerful action is the reconditioning of the mind and that can only be done by using a manifesting formula that reprograms your mind to bring it into alignment with your desires. It's just not enough to put up pictures of what you want; you have to know how to enter the mind to alter it.

“You cannot solve a problem with the same mind that created it.”
—Albert Einstein;

Have you ever noticed that you seem to attract the same sort of salary, the same sort of people, and the same conditions? All this will remain for life because your mind is programmed for that level of money and those particular conditions. In order to attract something new you must effectively reprogram your mind. This is one of the essential keys to manifesting what you want. An entirely new program must be entered in order for you to produce new results.

Every single thing you are experiencing in your life is a product of an old program that will never change by itself. It has to be altered or nothing will change in your financial life or any other part of your life.

Wrong Action or No Action – Does it seem as if everything you do fails or does not product the outcome you are hoping to achieve? That is because your actions are not in alignment with your results. Who is to say what the best action is to take? Only you know this especially when you understand the point below. That action may very well be to go out and buy that lottery ticket or pick up the phone and call that great grand aunt you have not heard from. Everyone’s story is unique and the action that each person takes will be unique to them.

You cannot take whatever action you think, it must be the right action and that action is aligned perfectly to your desired amount

Become a Mental Detector...Not a Metal Detector – Everything you want already exist and you can use your mind in special ways to find what you want. The big mistake most people make is using their mind to simply visualize their goals. But that is only a tiny portion of how to use your mind to manifest your desire.

I often say that the mind is like a metal detector. Have you ever seen a metal detector in use? The moment it comes in contact with another form of metal buried beneath the sand or soil it goes off into a wild beeping sound. Without that metal detector you would walk over that sand or soil for days and never know that there was anything valuable beneath it. When you can use your mental detector like a metal detector you are always going to be at an advantage. You will always know the where, the how and the right timing.

However without that tool you will find your efforts fail miserably. Visualization alone does not guarantee you will attract what you want. I am sure you already know this as most people have become disillusioned with the ideas of manifesting what they want.

Why Manifesting is Allot Like Losing Weight

If you have ever been on a weight loss program and failed you may believe that losing weight is so hard. However if you made the effort to get the right instructions and finally got that “ah ha” moment you know that losing weight can be ridiculously easy for the most part.

Sometimes we get one part. Someone tells us about the newest diet pill designed to burn fast like ice cubes on fire and sure enough we run out and get it. But, after sometime we don't see any improvements at all. Does that mean that the diet pills don't work?

The problem is that there are a combination of factors that must be in alignment in order to get maximum results. Not only should you take the fat burning pills, you have to eat foods closes to the source and you must exercise and drink tons of water.

Manifesting is the same way. In order to excel at your manifesting goals you need a formula. YOU need a step 1, step 2 and so forth. You must implement several things into the mix. If you have one and not the other you changes will likely be unsuccessful.

Luckily manifesting is a lot more fun compared to trying to lose weight. It really does not take a whole lot of will power. It just requires doing certain things in a certain way in order to produce results that are direct, focused and rapid.

Manifesting Magic The Real Secret to Phenomenal Results

As human beings we are a lot like a car, the appliances in our home. Electricity is vital to our wellbeing. The very same principles that apply to an electrical appliance also pertain to us.

We often speak of negative and positive thoughts and feelings yet are you really aware of what negative and positive thoughts really mean? Did you ever simply break it down to the mathematical principles of addition and subtraction?

When you engage in negative thoughts and feelings you literally subtract that energy or spiritual gasoline needed to make you run at maximum efficiency. However when you engage in positive life affirming thoughts and feelings you help to sustain the power system, again your spiritual gasoline.

When you are immersed in negative thoughts and feeling or an environment which does not feed you, you are essentially subtracting from your spiritual power and reducing your power to manifest. All thought is energy and thought not backed up by sufficient spiritual gasoline is weak.

Just imagine a car running on empty and that will help to paint a clear picture in your head about what is happening to you.

Raw Spiritual Fuel

I have a friend who is a good many years older than me. He has been dedicated to the spiritual practices for all his life. More than twenty years ago before manifesting had become mainstream he was hosting small classes where he taught people on how to manifest their desires. So I need not tell you that after all these years this man knows something about manifesting. He is well in his later 60's on ward. You would never know it to look at him. He has skin with more elasticity than most 20 year old and his eyes are vibrant.

We often get into talking about our meditation practices and one thing I have come to realize is the pure power of using what I call at this time, "spiritual gasoline." We often joke that if we do not do this particular meditation the day is just not the same. We have both come to realize that life without it is pure hell on earth.

We make joke about it but I often wonder what life is like for most that do not practice or understand these principles and its technique? A few days ago he over slept a bit and had a plane to catch. His first thought was, do I sit though this meditation or do I run off and try to catch that flight?

His answer could only have come from someone who had many years of practicing this technique. He decided he would sit through the meditation. After his meditation he got ready and headed out for his trip. Every single thing moved at the right timing. The taxi came just on time; other cars seem to part ways to let them through. The street lights seem to never show a stop sign. Guess what? He made it just on time but without any stress on his part.

Certain spiritual techniques simply add power to every single moment. It adds magical power to every thought every intended creation. More precious it helps to alter a person's state of being and that state of being reflects in one's ability to alter and influence outside reality.

Sometimes life, your routine, your associations with others can all run you into the ground. Again, this feeling of being run into the ground is due to low energy or spiritual gasoline. It can seem impossible to lift your spirits up or even to hold a positive thought. However by flooding your entire mind and body in an energized way you literally fill up your spiritual tank of gas. And, just like magic you start to feel renewed again. When your spiritual tank of gas is filled up you become a powerhouse. New ideas flow through you, your ability to visualize suddenly increases. You are able to influence external events and the power needed to manifest returns.

You can also literally immerse your desires with that spiritual power to energize it and bring it into existence. The more you infuse your being and your desires with spiritual fire the easier and faster everything seems to work. This happens to be the true magic of manifesting that can change everything rapidly.

How Long Does it Take to Manifest The Money You Want

“How long does it all take?” That is the most popular question. How long it takes depends on several factors. To help you understand I will paint a picture for you. Two cars are heading to the same destination. Both cars have an internal navigational system which is intended to guide them to the destination. However one driver chooses to wing it, let’s call him driver (A). The other driver who we will call driver (B) relies heavily on using his navigator to get him to his destination.

Driver (B) the one who uses his navigator starts off his trip with a full tank of gas while the other has decided to fill up along the way. Driver (B) who has the full tank and uses his navigator has decided that he will aim to get to his destination by nightfall and nothing will take him off his path. On the other hand driver (A) has not even a projected idea of when he will arrive to his destination, he just knows that he is driving and he is going to get there.

It’s easy to see which driver will hit his post first. The universe needs your clarity. When you are clear about exactly what you want and when you want it, everything around you falls into place to make it happen as you command. It’s when you are uncertain not sure that nothing seems to work.

When you are certain you are embodying a power as creator of your reality. You are declaring with clarity what you want and when you want it.

Part of that clarity requires that you also apply mental tools to over ride the old mental scrip you had which will always pull you back. The mind works like a rubber band. In order to reshape a rubber band you would have to stretch and hold that new shape for a while before it remained in that new shape. However if you pulled it out a bit then let it go, it would only return to its previous shape. Nothing significant would happen.

The mind needs to be altered to match and that also determines how easily you get to your desired goal. Do you frequency go back and forth about what it is you want? Do you start a manifesting program only to give it up after a day? Have you learned how to alter your mind so that you manifest effortlessly?

These are all the questions one needs to ask themselves.

She Manifested 10k in 30 days...

Can You?

Although I have included many examples of people who manifested and I also share what methods they took, I had to enter Marilyn's story. For many people 10k is an unimaginable amount but this first time mom made it happen.

As I have said in the previous pages, everything you desire exists. The key is to become a mental detector and find the source of that money. The moment you can find it, you can align yourself with it by taking steps which get you to that goal.

Marilynn was clear about how much she wanted and by the time she wanted it. She got fired up and although she was fearful she took action which moved her in alignment with her desire and it worked. It always works as long as you follow the formula.

No formula, no map gets you lost.

- She knew specifically how much she wanted
- She immersed her entire being in the process.
- She reconditioned her mental state with her blueprint.
- Took quick action the moment she discovered what the solution was.
- Took notes as sometimes we can go all over the place and take wrong turns.

- Fuel up on powerful spiritual fuel so that she stay energized and the universe part ways to support her every move.

Could you follow through with such a formula? Of course in the Magic Money eBook I do break down all of Marilyn's process and tell you exactly what she did step by step to achieve her goal.

I also show you how you can also apply the same steps to achieve the amount that you want to manifest.

How to Get Started

- 1.) Know what you really want to manifest.
- 2.) Write it out and write out why you want it.
- 3.) Listen to those gremlins in your head that tell you that you cannot have it. Everyone has those. They pop up every time you decide that you want to manifest something.
- 4.) Have a discussion with those inner gremlins. Ask them why they are holding you back?
- 5.) Write those thoughts and feelings out on paper as well.
- 6.) Are you now surrounded by friends or family members who feed those gremlins and make them stronger?
- 7.) It's time to clean house!!! In order manifest new things in your life you have to get rid of dead weight or things which are hold valuable space.
- 8.) It's time to take a hiatus from anyone or everyone who does not feed your dreams. If that person is the complaining type, who always has to remind you of how hard life is, cut them loose until you achieve your goal. If after you have achieved your goal you care to have them around again then it's up to you but I doubt it.

You have to decide how important it is for you to live your very best life. The sooner you make the effort to change things the longer you get to live the life what you really want. However when you make excuse you linger in that grey areas and years can go by before you realize that nothing has changed.
